

Chemours CEO Receives Top Industry Honor for Innovation & Professional Impact

April 23, 2018

WILMINGTON, Del., April 23, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- The Chemours Company (Chemours) (NYSE: CC), a global chemistry company with leading market positions in titanium technologies, fluoroproducts and chemical solutions, today announced its President and CEO Mark Vergnano received the 2018 American Institute of Chemical Engineers' (AIChE) Government and Industry Leaders (AGILE) Award. The award honors leaders who have made significant contributions to the chemical engineering profession and whose innovations and creativity have made a significant impact within the marketplace and global community.

"It's truly an honor to receive the AIChE AGILE Award," said Chemours President and CEO Mark Vergnano. "But it's far from an individual achievement. This award is a testament to the combined power of great people and a values-driven culture within Chemours. We're eager to continue advancing higher value chemistry and playing a meaningful role in the larger community of engineers and scientists who make the impossible possible."

As the AGILE Award winner, Vergnano delivered the keynote address earlier today at the AIChE Spring Meeting and Global Congress on Process Safety in Orlando, Florida.
